

The background of the poster is a dark, atmospheric illustration of a Halloween night. A large, bright yellow full moon hangs in a dark teal sky. Several black bats are shown in flight, some near the moon and others around a dark, gnarled tree on the left. In the center-right, a dark, multi-towered house with orange light glowing from its windows is partially obscured by the branches of another tree. The overall color palette is dominated by dark blues, greens, and yellows, creating a spooky yet inviting mood.
